

Pittman Asserts Western Hemisphere Is Prepared To Meet "Any Aggression"

Senator Cites Ratification of Treaty Of Havana As Proof of Pan-American Solidarity Against Alliance

Washington, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Senator Pittman (D-Nev.), citing ratification of the treaty of Havana as new proof of Pan-American solidarity, declared today that the Western Hemisphere nations are prepared to meet "any aggression" which might arise from the German-Italian alliance with Japan.

The Senate ratified the treaty by voice vote yesterday shortly after announcement in Berlin that Japan had lined up formally with the Axis powers in an agreement which pledged the three nations to assist each other in the event any of them was attacked by a new enemy in the European or Chinese wars.

The Havana treaty provides specifically that the 21 American nations will act jointly against the transfer of sovereignty of European possessions in this hemisphere to other European powers. But Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, declared its significance at this time was much broader.

Proclaims United Front

"It minimizes the effect of the proclaimed solidarity of the Eastern Hemisphere, as expressed in the tri-power Axis treaty," he told reporters. "It furnishes concrete evidence that the countries of the Western Hemisphere are prepared to meet any aggression with a united front."

What aggression might conceivably result from the new Axis alliance the senator did not say, but official Washington generally regarded it as directed chiefly at the United States as the only potential new enemy of the totalitarian states in either the Orient or Europe.

There were no indications, however, that the course of United States foreign policy would be altered in the slightest. On the contrary, Secretary Hull said yesterday that the Berlin treaty was taken into account in determining this country's policies.

And President Roosevelt, who refrained from comment on the pact, entertained new appeals for greater aid to the British. A group of 87 men and women, describing themselves as a "spontaneous crusade," visited him, and later a spokesman said they were "enthusiastically encouraged."

ITALY SUGGESTS AN EXTENSION OF 3-POWER ALLIANCE

(By The Associated Press)

Extension of the new German-Italian-Japanese pact to include Bulgaria and thus bring stronger psychological pressure on Greece and Turkey, who lean towards Britain, was suggested today by Italian political circles.

Bulgaria traditionally has been amenable to the "Brother-Slav" ideas of Russia, whose own position in the new setup is still publicly undefined.

One of the aims of Germany and Italy in the prosecution of the war has been to keep peace in the Balkans, sources of food and battle supplies for the axis.

How much squeeze the new German-Italian-Japanese alliance will put on the United States, and Soviet Russia's ill-defined position between two of her one-time foes, were big question-marks that curled up today from Adolf Hitler's latest diplomatic bombshell.

The United States was not mentioned in the past that binds the axis eastward across Asia, but Russia was. Most observers agreed, however, that the principal aim is to keep the United States out of Europe's war by increased threats from across the Pacific—and out of Japan's widening way by the menace of the three-power hookup.

Beaten Speculation

Political quarters in Berlin already are speculating whether the alliance will not preclude the United States from dicker with Britain for the use of any British naval base in the Far East—a possibility concerning which rumors have been current recently. Japan was left to measure for herself what she considers her field in the Orient. It was considered possible she might deem United States use of such British bases as Singapore as an encroachment upon her interests.

At Washington, where news of the agreement was received without surprise, there was no indication that the United States would swerve either from her present diplomatic course with the Far East, or in steadily increasing aid to Britain.

A highly-placed Japanese told The Associated Press today that the treaty grew primarily from

WILLKIE CARRIES HIS PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN TO EAST

Nominee Says Roosevelt Sought to "Destroy" Democracy

Aboard Willkie train enroute to New York, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie will report to New York Republicans tonight on his western campaign trip, which he closed last night with an assertion that the Roosevelt administration has kept the form but not the substance of democracy.

The Republican presidential nominee will speak to his party's state convention at the Empire race track, Yonkers, N. Y., at 8 p. m. (7 p. m., C. S. T.). The talk will be broadcast regionally. (N. B. C. red network to New York state and Washington, D. C., stations.)

Willkie's latest criticism of his Democratic opponent was made at Madison, Wis., before a cheering crowd which filled the University of Wisconsin field house.

Noting that appropriation bills have to originate in the house of representatives, he said:

"And yet, retaining the form and abandoning the substance, this administration insisted shortly after it came into office on having blank discretionary appropriations made by congress."

"Its power to re-elect itself in 1936 and its attempt to re-elect itself in 1940 is basically built upon those blank checks."

Willkie, silhouetted against a big American flag, also cited President Roosevelt's efforts to defeat certain anti-New Deal Democratic members of congress in 1938.

Say FDR Put on Purge

"The president of the United States," he said, "did not like the way members of both the house and the senate voted, and therefore he put on the purge, and threw the full weight of the presidency to throw those men from public life."

"Thus he went through the mockery of seeking to preserve democracy but using the influence of the presidency to destroy it."

The nominee made a similar charge regarding the president's supreme court bill of 1937. He added that Mr. Roosevelt objected to some justices because of their age, but that he recently appointed a Secretary of War who is over 70.

Willkie devoted part of his ex-temporaneous talk to criticism of the president's third-term attempt, saying that a tradition against it "has become an unwritten law in America."

He advanced a similar argument earlier yesterday in several train platform talks as he sped across Iowa. He said at Dubuque, Iowa, a city which Democrats usually carry:

"Thomas Jefferson said he hoped x x x that if any man ever ran for president of the United States for a third term that he would be so overwhelmingly defeated that no man thereafter would ever seek to do so."

Expect to Resume Oil Drilling Operations Near Shabbona Sunday

Oil drilling operations at the site of activity three-quarters of a mile south of Shabbona in DeKalb county, which have been at a stand still for several days, are expected to be resumed Sunday, according to J. E. Milburn, who is superintending the operations. Operations were ceased three weeks ago after the drill had gone to a depth of 528 feet.

The drilling operation begun early in the summer and was started upon the prediction of Dr. Van Hagen, geologist, who previously had predicted five oil sites in the state of Texas and many more in the southern Illinois field. The drilling crew report that the formations have been found to coincide very closely to the geologist's report and are quite enthusiastic over the prospect of opening the first producing well in what is expected to be a new field in northern Illinois.

Three Signatories of Pact Agree on Area Which Reds Shall Control

Berlin, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The three signatories to the German-Italian-Japanese military pact have agreed on the area in which the Red Star of Soviet Russia is to be the controlling symbol, the authoritative commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, said today.

The three powers, which have agreed already to the precise "spaces" in Europe, Africa and Asia in which they are to have the final word, have agreed on Russia's sphere so "that there can be no question of encroachment in foreign spaces by these powers," the commentary said.

The commentary defined the relation of the individual states to their respective "spaces" as "leadership" and not as monopolistic rule.

Other German conjecture in the wake of yesterday's dramatic signing of the new world-front alliance centered on the United States and its possible future use of Britain's Singapore base and its supply of arms and planes to the English.

President Roosevelt Sees Two-Party System Here to Stay; Says Struggle Is Now Liberalism Versus Reaction

Miami, Fla., Sept. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt in a message to young Democrats assembled here in a pre-election rally asserted "there always will be two parties in this country, and that while their names may change, 'the issues between them are definite'."

Speaking through his son, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., the chief executive told the Young Democratic Clubs of America last night that "inevitably the struggle must be between the forces of liberalism and the forces of reaction."

This struggle, he added, "will go on as long as selfishness places a place in the heart of man."

The young Democrats prepared to close their rally today and swing immediately into the national political campaign.

"I desire to emphasize a hard and unchanging truth, which is that the Democratic party has succeeded whenever it has had the courage to be democratic," the president's message declared. "It has failed whenever its leaders have sought to diverge from a democratic course."

"The world cannot stand still—the watchword of youth must ever be progress. Politics, which in the correct sense is another name for government, can no more be conducted on the lines of half a century ago than business could be expected to function along with quill pens instead of typewriters and written messages instead of telephones. So my message to you is simply that if you will do your best for your party and your country you must adhere to the true principles of a liberal democracy."

Application for Permit to Extend Sewage System Is Granted Last Night

A resolution was adopted by the city commission at the regular meeting last evening, in which application was made to the state department of public works and buildings for a permit to construct the extension to the sewage treatment system on Galena avenue. Assurance was also furnished the state department of a sufficient bond by the contractor. The action was necessary to conform to requirements where work is done on or under state highway routes.

The council granted a soft drink license to Louis Bevilacqua at 116 North Peoria avenue. Claims totalling $7,145.96 were read to the council and ordered paid.

Many Plan to Attend GOP Meeting at Amboy

The Lee County Republican Central Committee is planning a good attendance for a meeting to be held in Amboy on Wednesday, Oct. 2, at noon at the Methodist church where the ladies of the church will serve a dinner.

Dwight H. Green, candidate for governor, will speak and so also will Warren Wright, candidate for state treasurer and Stephen A. Day, candidate for congressman-at-large.

On Tuesday night the same candidates will address a mass meeting at Mt. Morris in Ogle county, commencing at 7:45 o'clock.

Daylight Saving Time Ends Tomorrow Morning

New York, Sept. 28.—(AP)—It's turn-back-the-clock time again.

At 2 a. m. tomorrow all persons who lost an hour of sleep last April with the advent of daylight saving time may recover it with the return to Standard Time.

The brain-child of a Britisher, the system got its greatest impetus during the World War by putting people to bed and getting them up an hour earlier, on the theory that fuel for lighting would be saved thereby.

HOSPITAL BOARD NEEDS $15,000 FOR BUILDING COSTS

Total of $94,000 Has Been Pledged For New Addition

A total of $94,000 has been secured or is pledged for the erection and equipment of the new addition to the Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital in Dixon and now the board of directors is making an urgent appeal to the public for donations of an additional $15,000, which is the amount necessary to complete the financing of the new building have been signed and the contractors have commenced operations on the new construction, but unless the additional funds needed are provided it will be necessary to leave a portion of the program incomplete.

The money already pledged or in hand will complete the entire building and will make possible the additional new beds and the new operating rooms, but the final $15,000 will be needed before the first floor and the new kitchen can be finished and equipped.

Help Is Needed

To properly finish the project and allow the institution to function at full efficiency it is vital that the $15,000 be raised and the only manner in which this desirable goal can be reached is by donation from public spirited citizens.

The hospital board has borrowed $32,000 on its property and has supplied $10,000 more from a bequest it received from the estate of the late Ed Blackman. Dr. Samuel Houston of Polo, whose interest in the welfare of the Dixon hospital prompted him to supply $20,000 gave the first impetus to the campaign to raise the fund and a long list of citizens of Dixon and vicinity have donated very generously to make the total of $94,000 which is now available.

Original Contract

The original contract for the new improvement was $110,000 but the hospital board arranged for alternate contracts which permit going ahead with the construction with some incomplete departments in the unfortunate event that the entire sum is not forthcoming.

All persons in this community who feel able to donate either large or small amounts toward the completion of the new addition are asked to communicate with Attorney Robert L. Warner, treasurer, or leave donations at the City National bank.

Letters are going out today to a number of residents of Dixon and vicinity and others will follow in a few days. They ask the recipients to make donations toward the completion of the hospital fund.

Amboy Home Is Ruined By Fire Early Today

(Telegraph Special Service)

Amboy, Sept. 28.—The home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James Ehmons on Strodel avenue here was entirely gutted by fire early this morning when a stove became overheated. Residents of the property tried to put out the blaze and did not call the local fire department until 6:15 a. m. By that time, it is reported, the fire had made such a headway that the damage could not be checked.

All furniture with the exception of a bed room set was saved and a few personal properties were lost.

Axes and Saws Used To Perform Autopsy On Circus Elephant

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 28.—The University of Arkansas medical school's department of pathology last night performed what its officials described as the largest autopsy in this state's history. Tessie, 7,000 pound circus elephant which died Thursday, was the subject.

Using axes, saws and other carpenter shop instruments, physicians and students discovered Tessie died of tetanus and that she also suffered a lung congestion.

Last Leader of Republican Spain Dies Last Night in Madrid Prison

Madrid, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The last leader of Spain's Republican government, Julian Besteiro, 70-year-old Socialist leader, died last night in the prison cell at Carmona to which he was committed a year ago after a military tribunal convicted him of helping to prolong the Spanish civil war.

The tall, gray-haired former law professor, serving a 30-year term, had been ill for some time of tuberculosis.

A founder of the Socialist party in Spain, the former Madrid university professor came out of retirement just before the end of the

Nazi Air Raiders Climax Third Week of Siege With Furious Overnight Assault

British Estimate Germans Lost 133 Planes Yesterday Bringing Losses for September To More Than 1,000

(By The Associated Press)

London, Sept. 28.—German bombers struck at London again today after a furious overnight assault that wound up three successive weeks of relentless air siege of the British capital.

R. A. F. fighter planes swarmed up immediately to intercept the first raiders during mid-morning and after a short time Londoners emerged from their shelters.

A second alarm sent Londoners to shelter this afternoon just as thousands were making a week-end exodus to get restful sleep in the country.

The British said the overnight raids against London and towns of England, Scotland and Wales had cost the Germans heavily.

The British estimated that the nazis lost 133 planes yesterday, bringing their total losses for September to more than 1,000 for the second successive month.

Cloud-darkened skies hid the number of German planes sent at England in almost endless procession during the night, but observers said they kept to the recently stepped-up pace of attack.

The force of the latest air blows at Britain was illustrated by reports of observers that at least 1,000 German planes were launched at London alone yesterday.

One great wave of raiders seen trying to smash through the Kent coast defense apparently included 300 bombers and an escort of nearly 500 fighting Messerschmitts.

Penetrate to Center
Twice in the early hours this morning, raiders penetrated to the center of the repeatedly-bombed capital.

They were met by anti-aircraft barrages described as the heaviest yet fired in London's determined defense. At least one bomber was seen smashed by the shell bursts over the city. Others, caught momentarily in searchlight beams, seemed damaged by the thunderous fire that at times drowned out the sound of exploding bombs.

Some heavy explosives smashed again in the heart of London, setting a number of fires. These and the flash of explosives lit south-east London as bright as day for

However, all these would seem to boil down to one thing—that the Muscovites are invited to contribute to the greatness of the Triple Alliance but are not given a place in it.

Russian sources in London viewed the Soviet's position as "dangerous and very grave" but thought the position hinged on whether Germany had notified Moscow in advance about the project. German commentators say Russia was informed. Soviet Chief Stalin maintained his usual silence and let the rest of the crowd do the talking.

However, it is my view that Stalin will consider this the supreme affront and that the circumstances surrounding this extraordinary pact will serve to hasten the inevitable clash between Germany and Russia—and between Russia and Japan as well.

The outcome of the European war may ultimately turn on this situation.

I think it quite possible and even probable that Stalin will continue to play along with the alliance for the time being. He isn't going to rush haste. But he isn't going to lose sight of the fact that he has a potential enemy on each side of him—the Axis on the west and Japan on the east—and he will strike when the time seems right.

When all's said and done there is little in common between Russia and the Triple Alliance, the members of which also are the leaders in the historic anti-Communist pact that was devised to combat Communism. Actually, Russian and alliance interests clash on most major points.

It happened to suit the Moscow policy to sign with Germany the anti-aggression pact which set the European war rolling. At that moment Hitler, who until then, had damned communism up hill and down, desperately needed assurance that Russia would remain neutral.

Many observers, however, believe that Stalin never would have

RECRUITING MAY FULFILL ILLINOIS QUOTA IN DRAFT

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(AP)—Recruiting into the National Guard and other defense units in Illinois for a year's service might be so heavy that no men would be drafted to fill the first selective service quota, believes Major Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, commander of the 33rd Division.

After a conference last night with National Guard officers from throughout the state, Gen. Lawton said "we will have no trouble getting any number of enlisted men into the Guard required by the war department."

Illinois will be given credit on its selective service quota for all men recruited into the guard for a year's service over the present strength of 9,217 men, together with the additional men enlisted into other units of the army and navy, Gen. Lawton said. The quota for Illinois has been estimated at 24,000.

Plans Outlined

At the conference last night, attended by brigade and regimental guard commanders, plans were outlined for speedy mobilization of the division when it is called to a year's service, housing care during induction of the troops, the possible additional enlistment and other phases of the service program.

Although the war department has not issued any orders relative to the guard's recruiting to bring its present enrollment to "peacetime strength" or full "war strength," Gen. Lawton said the division probably would be mobilized about January 3.

Peacetime strength would be 13,433 men and 669 officers, he added, or about 4,200 men over the present number. Full war strength would be about 17,894 men and 907 officers, about 8,700 above the present total.

"We want to release as speedily as possible all men who have dependents or are unable to go into federal service for other reasons," Gen. Lawton said. "Then we would seek enlistments to return to our present strength and be ready to recruit whatever additional number of men the war

HOW TO BUY • FINANCE • FURNISH • YOUR HOME

BUILD • MODERNIZE • IMPROVE

Get Best Prices from Your Builder

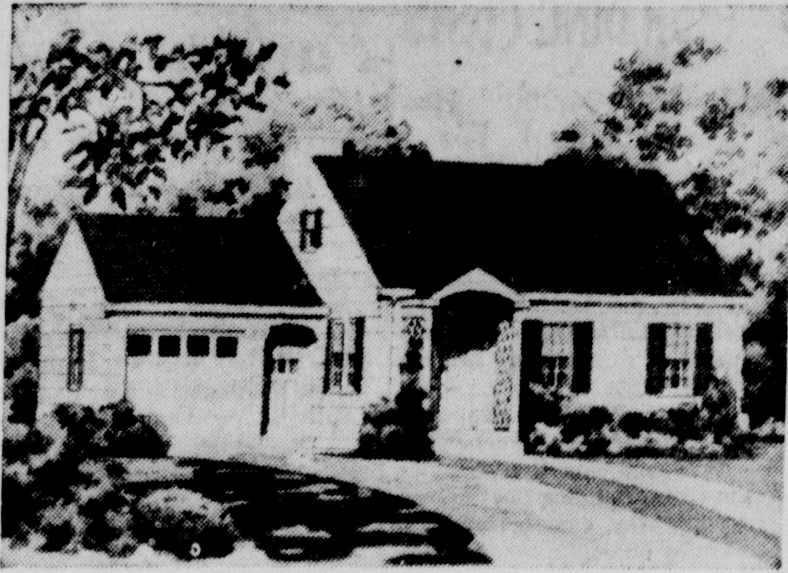

It makes little difference to your builder whether you construct a large or small home. His compensation is based on the time and effort a structure requires of him. Small homes take less time and they involve less financial risk. Many builders prefer to build them in large numbers on a modest percentage.

A builder or contractor is an individual who gathers together for your convenience in one person the functions of as many as 30 different trades and operations. The process of determining the price of a home is one of carefully checking the materials and labor operations in these 30 trades.

There are many qualities and many prices for each operation. Someone has to make the decision as to just which grade material shall be used for a certain place in the house and how the work shall be done. It is the answer to this question repeated many times which determines the final cost estimate of your home.

If you can take the time to give your builder exact information as to your requirements and wishes there will be no reason for him to make guesses and decisions which might unnecessarily boost the cost of the house. In lieu of specific information it is natural

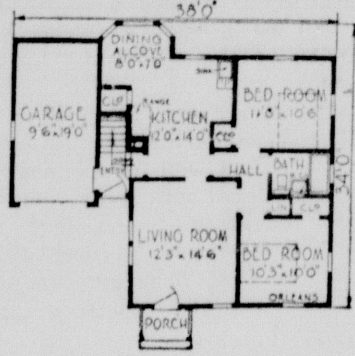

A TWO BEDROOM HOME

It is unusual to find in so small a house such excellent arrangement and design as here executed, coupled with a thorough appreciation of the importance of detail.

Features of the plan are the provision for easy communication between rooms and inclusion of an entry into the garage from inside the house. This can be very convenient in unpleasant weather.

for the builder to estimate sufficiently high to cover all contingencies.

If you want more house for your dollar, help your builder by outlining to him the full amount of the monthly payment which your budget should stand and the amount you can originally invest. Ask plenty of questions... make sure that you understand each other perfectly before you permit him to bid.

Make sure, before a detailed cost estimate and bid is made, that the design you have selected is within the general range you wish. Your builder or lumber dealer can tell you this.

Don't despair if the first estimate on the house you want exceeds your cost limit. Go over the plan and the specifications step by step with the builder. Every house built is a compromise. Remember that slight changes in the requirements which cut the cost of each item five percent all along the line may make as much as $1,000 difference in the total cost.

Avoid making your builder gamble. If he is sure of his ground and has full knowledge of exactly what is required of him he will help you get a good house for a small amount of money. He will not try to profiteer; but if he must take risks he will try to protect himself. Remove the risks and cut your costs.

Change your mind before you start the building job... not during it. Have all the "pros and cons" talked out before the building materials arrive at the site. Talk is cheap... but building material and labor cost money.

Do these things:

1. Before you spend money for plans get two or three opinions from competent persons as to the general price class into which your choice falls.
2. Question every decision as to kind of material or equipment to be sure that some other material will not do the job as well at less cost.
3. Make a general list of everything you want in the house and get your builder's opinion item by item.
4. Avoid generalities. The only accurate cost of a building is based on specific items.
5. Be sure you know exactly how much you have to spend before you start negotiations.

Misunderstandings are one of the main reasons for the abandonment of many promising home-building jobs. Don't take it for granted that a builder knows what you want... tastes and opinions differ widely, especially about houses.

Building a home takes time and thought. The more attention you give it the less it is likely to cost you.

Questions and Answers

Q. Should doors leading to a porch be placed on either side of a living-room fireplace which is located in the center of a wall approximately 13 feet in length? The porch could easily be planned for another location.

A. Since the fireplace is usually the center of activity and interest in a living room, the location of the furniture about it is very important. It should be possible to arrange a sofa, chairs, and tables so that a convenient conversational group can be formed. Doors on either side of the fireplace would make this difficult since the space required for the swinging of the doors and for circulation through these openings would leave little room for any fireside grouping of furniture.

Q. What type and weight of roofing felt is recommended for use under slate? What is meant by shingle exposure, and what are the allowable exposures for slate?

A. Under slate use a saturated asphalt roofing felt weighing not less than 30 pounds per 100 square feet. The exposure of a shingle is the portion not covered by the next course above or the length of the shingle exposed to the weather. Since the standard lap of alternate shingle courses used in laying slate on sloping roofs is 3 inches, the proper exposure is computed by deducting 3 inches from the length of the slate and dividing by two. This means that for a 14-inch slate the exposure should not exceed 5½ inches; for a 16-inch slate, 6½ inches; and for an 18-inch slate, 7½ inches. Proper exposure to the weather for longer or shorter shingles can be determined in the same manner.

Q. How can a garbage container be concealed?

A. An underground receptacle, properly drained and having a pedal-operated cover, is a good arrangement. Containers above the ground can be included in a small lattice or hedge-screen service yard located on the same side of the house as the garage driveway, kitchen, and service entrance.

Q. Every time it rains several of our windows swell, and we are unable to open them until they dry out. Is there any way we can remedy this condition?

A. Loosen the stop which holds the window sash in place. If this does not improve the condition, wait until the sash is dry and apply a thin coat of paste floor wax throughout the length of the grooves the sash slide in. Painting the grooves with linseed oil also may be helpful. If the windows are too tight even when dry, it will be necessary to remove the sash and plane down one side. Weatherstripping the windows will provide easy sliding of the sash and will reduce air filtration.

Crumb Cups

Removable crumb cups for the kitchen sink are considered to be a saving in plumber's bills.

The highest lighthouse maintained by the United States is on Lehua Island, Hawaii, 707 feet above sea level.

Kitchen Floors

Kitchen floors should be impervious to grease and easily cleaned, and they should be resilient. A curved base is a sanitary base, because dirt sweeps easily out of the sides where wall meets floor and where cabinets meet floors with two to four-inch recess.

AUTUMN HELD BEST TIME TO PAINT BY SOME EXPERTS

Summer Sun Dries Out Wood and Puts It in Better Condition to Receive Paint, It Is Declared

Is the reason behind the popularity of Spring painting psychological rather than practical?

Some painting authorities say "yes," and contend that if practical conditions, such as weather, temperature, and humidity, were the only factors involved it would probably be found that in most sections of the country there are more days of favorable painting weather in the Autumn than in the Spring.

Beauty or Protect?
According to proponents of Autumn painting, another fact underlying the popularity of Spring work is that the painting is done to satisfy an urge to beautify rather than to protect. They also contend that wood in Spring is likely to contain moisture absorbed during the winter months, while in autumn it has been thoroughly dried out by the summer sun and is in a better condition for painting.

Lends Color When Needed
Still another reason advanced by the autumn painters is that the paint affords protection during the winter months. Scarcely less important, they say, is the need for having house exteriors attractive during winter when nature's colors are no longer present.

Well Planned Closet Is Boon to Family

Simple Closets, Well Furnished Suitable for Small Homes

The clothes closet of the modern home makes life far easier and pleasanter for every member of the family, say FHA officials.

In the average small home a closet furnished with quilted satin and chromium is not necessary because simply, well-planned carpentry may produce equally gratifying results.

A closet to hold women's clothing should have hanging space ample to accommodate long evening and dinner gowns. A man's suits are short when hung and so shoe space may be provided under his clothing. Children and young people sometimes need storage space for their toys and other cherished possessions.

FHA officials advocate that the closet may be planned as to proportion and interior finish before the house is completed. However, the many possible gadgets to be included may be classed among the luxuries, to be added as the budget permits.

ent to lend charm to drab buildings.

The Federal Housing Administration takes no sides in the controversy but offers its Modernization Credit Plan as a means of financing work, whether done in spring or in the autumn.

Corner Windows Often Used To Increase Wall Space

Corner windows often may be used effectively to obtain wall space in small rooms, FHA officials advise.

Where windows of the usual type are used, they should not be placed too near the exterior corners, as this has the effect of making the structure appear weak at the corners where it should appear solid and strong.

Fasanella-O'Brien Wedding Will Be Solemnized Sunday

Miss Loretta Frances O'Brien, sixth daughter of Mrs. Mayme O'Brien of rural route 2, and Daniel L. Fasanella, third son of the James Fasanellas of Freeport, will be exchanging nuptial vows on September 29, Sunday. They will be married at 2 p. m. tomorrow at St. Patrick's Catholic church, with the Rev. Father Leonard Guzzardo pronouncing the ceremony.

About 100 guests from Dixon, Freeport, Byron, Harmon and Sterling are expected to assemble for the wedding. Mrs. Paul Heckman will be at the organ for the nuptial music.

The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, John O'Brien. Her princess wedding gown of white lace over satin, is designed with long fitted sleeves, extending in a point over the back of the hands, and a long train. Small white roses trim the front of the bodice. Her fingertip veil of tulle is gathered into a tiara, trimmed with seed pearls, and she will carry white roses.

Miss Betty Jane O'Brien is to be her sister's maid of honor. She will be wearing peach-shaded satin, with a peach bandeau on her hair, and will carry pink gladioli.

A reception will follow the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carr, 514 First street. After a wedding trip to Wisconsin, they will be at home at 1501 Second street.

Miss O'Brien has been employed by the Borden Cheese company. Mr. Fasanella is with the DeLuxe Cleaners.

ROCHELLE GARDEN CLUB WILL OPEN 1940-'41 SEASON NEXT WEEK; HAS VARIED PROGRAM

Next week will see members of the Rochelle Garden club opening a season which will keep them occupied until a late summer picnic scheduled for next Aug. 5. Mrs. Ernest Colwill is president of the organization, whose study for the year ranges from migration of birds and decorative arrangements for Thanksgiving tables, to color harmony in bulb plants and the framing of flower prints, with a flower display, a tea and breakfast tray contest, and an exchange of seeds and cuttings as additional highlights.

Mrs. Robert Talbot's program committee has outlined the study, her co-workers including Edith Carmichael, Mrs. Howard Cooper, and Mrs. Thomas McEachern. Mrs. Colwill's staff members are: First vice president, Edith Carmichael; second vice president, Mrs. Howard Cooper; recording secretary, Mrs. Arthur Heltness; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Floyd Caspers; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Brough.

MENDOTA GIRL IS HONORED

Miss Estelle Spitz of Mendota, fiancée of Edward G. Hein of Plymouth, Wis., was complimented Thursday evening at a pre-nuptial shower at the home of Miss Irene Ruva in Oglesby. The wedding will be solemnized Thursday, Oct. 3, at Holy Cross Catholic church in Mendota.

Ten former co-workers of the honoree at the Coffee shop in LaSalle were guests.

Bauman-Eich Marriage Is Solemnized

Miss Lucille Eich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eich of rural route 1, Mendota, and George Bauman, Jr., of Rochelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bauman of Batford, Wis., were married at 1 p. m. Thursday at St. John's Lutheran church in Mendota. The Rev. A. V. Engelbrecht heard the vows.

The bride wore a floor-length dress of star-dust blue taffeta, made with a fitted bodice and a full skirt. Her fingertip veil of matching tulle was held in place by a tiara of silver leaves, and she carried pale pink roses.

Mrs. Harold Kessel was her sister's matron of honor. She was dressed in dusty rose moire taffeta, with dark red roses in her hair. Her arm bouquet also contained red roses.

Marlene Ehlers, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. She wore a period-style floor-length frock of pale rose taffeta, and carried a basket of mixed flowers. Harry Bauman of Batford was his brother's best man. Ushers were Raymond Eich and Harold Kessler of Mendota.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony. Later, Mr. Bauman and his bride left for a wedding trip to Chicago and Wisconsin. After their return, they will make their home on the Henry Eich farm for the present.

Mrs. Bauman formerly attended the Mendota schools, and for the past two years has been employed at the Fitch laundry. The bridegroom, a former student in the Batford schools, has been employed in Rochelle for six years.

Give Shower for Miss Holderman

Miss Shirley Holderman, fiancée of Walter Kyger, was complimented Thursday afternoon, when members of the Silver Thimble club entertained 20 guests at a miscellaneous shower in her honor at the home of Miss Holderman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Holderman. The Kyger-Holderman wedding is to be solemnized on Saturday, Oct. 5.

Gladioli decorated the rooms, where tables were formed for luncheon. Favors were shared by the honoree, Mrs. Wilbur Welch, and Mrs. G. E. Bain. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Walter Thurm, Mrs. S. E. Wirth, and Mrs. George Wolford.

Mrs. Harry Whippman and Mrs. S. E. Wirth have invited the guests to the Holderman home for another pre-nuptial courtesy for the bride-to-be, Tuesday evening.

LEAVE FOR TACOMA BRIDAL

Mrs. Charles Nieman and Mrs. Harry Kable of Mt. Morris accompanied Mrs. Kable's son, Robert, to Tacoma, Wash., earlier in the week. On Saturday, Oct. 5, Mr. Kable will claim Miss Margaret Heuston, daughter of the Benjamin Heustons of Tacoma, as his bride.

Following their marriage and a two-week motor trip, the bridal couple will be at home on the recently-purchased Kable farm, west of Mt. Morris.

Mrs. Kable and Mrs. Nieman expect to spend some time with Mrs. Nieman's sons, Hale and Roger of Tacoma, before returning to Mt. Morris.

T. A. M. CLUB

Mrs. William Mansell of North Dement avenue was hostess to the T. A. M. club Thursday evening, with all members present. Prizes in the evening's card games were won by Mrs. Alden Burger, and Mrs. Mansell. Mrs. Robert Wilson was awarded the traveling prize.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held Oct. 10, with Miss Margaret Moore of 413 North Ottawa avenue as hostess. Mrs. Mansell will plan the program.

PAXTON GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Overstreet of Paxton arrived in Dixon yesterday for a visit with Mr. Overstreet's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overstreet of Galena avenue.

FROM NORTH

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Adams returned yesterday afternoon from a summer vacation in northern Wisconsin.

CALIFORNIANS TO VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Appleford and son Alan of Berkeley, Calif., are expected to reach Dixon on Monday morning to spend a few days with Mr. Appleford's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Tyler of 218 Brinton avenue.

On Monday evening, the Tylers will be hosting a family dinner party in compliment to the visitors. Their guests will number Mrs. E. N. Howell, Mrs. Ira Lanphier, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Howell, and George Howell.

Miss DePuy and Mr. Vest to be Married, Today

This September's last Saturday, is to be the wedding day of Miss Frances Lee DePuy, younger daughter of the Robert B. DePuy of rural route 4, and Robert Lee Vest, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Vest of 215 Van Buren avenue, whose nuptial vows will be pledged at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the First Methodist church. Simplicity is to be the keynote for the double ring ceremony, to be performed by Dr. F. L. Riewfield, pastor of the church.

Mrs. Louis Pitcher, Jr., of Streator is to be her sister's only attendant, and Dr. Eugene B. Vest, faculty member at Monmouth college, will serve his brother as best man.

Miss DePuy, who will be given in marriage by her father, has chosen a modish autumn suit of eye blue velvet, with a breton sailor hat, and dubonnet accessories for her bridal attire. At her shoulder will be a corsage of white gladioli.

She will be wearing gold earrings set with pearls, which belonged to her great-grandmother Preston, and will carry the wedding handkerchief of her bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Pitcher will be attired in blue crepe with dubonnet accessories. Her corsage will contain Talisman roses.

Mrs. DePuy will be dressed in black triple sheer crepe for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Vest will wear black velvet.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony at the country home of the bride's parents. Later, Mr. Vest and his bride will motor to Missouri on a wedding trip.

The young bride and groom will reside in an apartment at 103 East Seventh street until their new home at 1306 Galena avenue is completed.

Miss DePuy was graduated from Dixon high school with the class of 1936, and from Dixon Business college. She is now employed as deputy recorder in the circuit clerk's office at the Lee county courthouse. Mr. Vest, a graduate of Dixon high school in 1937, is associated with his father at the Dixon Reminder office.

RETURNS TO CHICAGO

Mrs. E. H. Reed is returning to Chicago today, after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wingert.

Mrs. Wingert and Mrs. Standwood Griffith of Ashton entertained in compliment to the visitor on Thursday at the Griffith home. Prizes in games were won by Mrs. Dora Hughes, Miss Clara Armstrong, and Miss Fannie Murphy.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Fischer who have been visiting at the home of Patrolman and Mrs. Harry Fischer for the past week, have returned to their home at Dayton, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weisz of Champaign will spend Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Hattie B. Weisz.

Mrs. A. E. Marth and Mrs. Earl Auman were in Freeport yesterday, attending the Wilkie meeting.

Mrs. J. W. Busby and her daughter, Mrs. Harley L. Swarts, have returned from a week's stay with Mrs. Busby's cousin, Mrs. Reuben Boody, who is seriously ill in Independence, Iowa. Mrs. Boody has visited in Dixon on several occasions.

Miss Jean Murray came out from Chicago, Friday evening, to spend the week end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Murray.

Mrs. A. F. Moore has returned from Chicago, where she has been with her husband at Passavant hospital. Dr. Moore expects to be able to return to Dixon tomorrow.

Will Be Wed to Mt. Morris Man

Mrs. Pius Burgard and her mother, Mrs. Harry Williams, will be among out of town guests attending the wedding of Mrs. Burgard's former classmate at Northern Illinois State Teachers college, Miss Elnora Weidman, who is the second daughter of Jake Weidman of near Savanna, to J. Arthur Fetterolf of Mt. Morris, son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Fetterolf of Mt. Carroll. The bridegroom's father, a retired clergyman, will hear the vows at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Savanna Methodist church.

Miss Weidman, who was complimented at a pre-nuptial party recently at Burgard home on Depot avenue, has chosen her older sister, Mrs. Sylvester Alden of Savanna, as her matron of honor. Her twin sisters, Louella and Louise, are to be her bridesmaids.

A reception at the Weidman home, east of Savanna, will follow the ceremony. Mrs. Burgard will be assisting at the refreshment table.

Mr. Fetterolf and his bride will reside in Mt. Morris, where he is with the Kable News. He was graduated from Mt. Carroll high school and the University of Illinois. Miss Weidman is a faculty member of the Chestnut Park school in Savanna.

Mendotan to Claim Bride

Miss Lena Marchetti, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Picchio of Depue, Ill., and Daniel Shirley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shirley of Mendota, will exchange nuptial vows at Spring Valley this afternoon.

The bride has chosen a suit of soldier blue jersey with navy blue accessories for her bridal attire. Her shoulder corsage will contain Talisman roses.

Miss Ann Golf of Spring Valley is to be bridesmaid. She will be wearing gold-toned wool with brown accessories, and a matching corsage. Donald Moore of Aurora is to serve Mr. Shirley as best man.

Miss Marchetti formerly attended the Spring Valley schools, and has been employed by the Sampel Time Control company in Mendota and Spring Valley. Her fiancé was graduated from Mendota Township high school, and is employed by the Conco company in Mendota.

Mr. Shirley and his bride will motor to Chicago on their wedding trip. They will reside at the Henning apartment on Main and Washington streets in Mendota.

TO FLOWER SHOW

Mrs. W. B. Richardson and her daughter, Mrs. Helms of Sterling, Mrs. George Christianson, Mrs. Lester Street, and Mrs. Earl Auman expect to motor to Freeport this afternoon to attend the fall flower show of the Freeport Garden club at Read's park.

The exhibit will be open all day tomorrow, from 10 a. m. on.

FROM DULUTH

Mrs. Harry Roe has returned from a ten-week visit with her brother, George Hyde, in Duluth, Minn.

FROM NANTUCKET

Mrs. John G. Ralston is expected to return to Dixon today, after an extended stay at her summer home, "Ralston House," on Nantucket.

Ballet, "Robin Hood," Revives Ancient Music

In the days of the more primitive arts in England, when lute and recorder served instead of swing and symphony orchestras, a simpler and less complex spirit prevailed in the pleasures of the people. The vitality and vigor of those times will be brought to life again before the young people of Dixon, when the ballet, "Robin Hood," by Saul Lancourt and featuring Edwin Strawbridge, is presented at the Dixon high school auditorium on Monday afternoon, Oct. 14.

The production is by Junior Programs, Inc., national non-commercial organization purveying to children and youth professional entertainment. Members of Dixon's combined Parent-Teacher associations are sponsoring the performance, which it to be followed by a play, "Run, Peddler Run," in February, and an opera, "Jack and the Beanstalk," in April.

Aside from costumes and other trappings of a near past these 700 years, there will be many an original note to bring back the true feeling of English life at the time of the Crusades. Even the music, unearthed from ancient sources in the Oxford and British museum libraries by Margaret Carlisle, will be authentic 13th century, transcribed in the modern mode.

Play Recorder

The music will be played on the recorder, an instrument of the year 1100, (which is nothing more than a long wooden tube with apertures as in a flute rendering in mellow tones the regular 12-note eight-tone scale) and on a portable reed organ simulating the ancient lute and other old-time and long-forgotten instruments.

Sol Rokoff, concert violinist who not many years ago received the acclaim of metropolitan music critics at his debut in New York's town hall, undertook to play the recorder specially for the "Robin Hood" ballet, and similarly Leo Polski, internationally renowned pianist will complement on the piano and organ.

The music they play, harking back to a period when wandering troubadours traversed the highways of England earning their bread by entertaining the people at market or in a nobleman's court as fortune dictated, serves better than anything else to revive the true spirit of Britain. Delicately rhythmic for dance measures, vigorously lusty for martial air, and tender and melodious for the romantic mood, the music of the ancients reduces emotions to their basic essentials.

Highlights

Among the musical highlights in the "Robin Hood" ballet, which in themselves comprise an entire concert of medieval melodies, are a unique 13th century tune by de la Halle, which furnishes the central theme of the score; several Christmas dances of the same era; two hitherto unknown old English hunting songs unearthed by Miss Carlisle; a tune based on street cries of medieval London; an ancient hymn, "My Mind to Me a Kingdom Is," and a group of old English folk dance tunes, only a few of which were created as late as Elizabethan times.

"I'm Not Taking Any Chances"

Every week—millions of dollars in gold arrives in this country for safe keeping. Wise foreign governments are taking no chances with aggressor nations on the prowl.

And in Dixon, wise men and women are taking no chances with hard earned cash during these uncertain times. They want protection and they get it—every safeguard that human ingenuity can devise when they choose

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may regret the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

School for Escape

It has become almost axiomatic that the reason for the startling successes of the German military machine has been its co-ordination and effective pre-combat training.

Even so, it's a bit of a surprise to find the nazis
actually schooled soldiers in methods of escape which they should use in the event of capture by the enemy. Interment headquarters in Canada has found a number of prisoners in Canadian camps were trained in lock picking, tunneling and other ways of breaking out.

Authorities say the escape of one English-speaking prisoner was possible only because his fellows aided him by carrying ground from a tunnel project around in their pockets, scattering it around when they weren't closely guarded.

This training for escape is just another indication of the great lengths the Germans have gone to in building up their war machine. What remains incomprehensible to Americans is how they convince a soldier he should even try to escape, once captured.

No Armistice in Price War

Just at the time when building is beginning to show signs of recovery, people in close touch with it are worried. For 10 years the country has waited vainly for a real revival in building, most continuously depressed of all industries, and one that is generally believed to hold the key to recovery.

Now that building is approaching boom conditions, due to the defense effort, economists are worried about prices. They are already showing a marked tendency to rise in the building field,
though many believed they were altogether too high before. That is unfortunate, for it may mean several unpleasant things. There are the gravest suspicions of artificially upheld prices in the building field. If it should prove that advantage is being taken of the defense boom to raise such artificially high prices still higher, it might give the whole building procedure an artificial and inflated aspect that could have only one result—a rude deflation after the emergency.

This we ought to try to avoid at all costs in every field, but especially in this one.

Newspaper Week—For the Public

Sometimes folks forget what a close relationship exists between them and their daily newspaper.
Because their newspaper is always on the doorstep or on the corner newsstand exactly when they expect it, they take it pretty much for granted.
They forget how important it is to them—how lost
they would be without it.

That's why newspaper publishers all over the country got together and decided to sponsor a National Newspaper Week from Oct. 1 to 8. They wanted to remind their subscribers that not only is the daily newspaper a vital part of everyone's life,
but that the readers are a vital part of the newspaper
—that without the friendly attitude of the public and its tolerance in hearing all sides of every question, there could be no free American press.

The idea of a week devoted to American newspapers really belongs to H. R. Holsby, editor of the Olean (N. Y.) Times Herald. Mr. Holsby got his inspiration more than a year ago. On Aug. 5, 1939, he told his readers about it in an editorial. He wrote:

After all, the American newspaper is one of the bulwarks of American democracy—one of the safeguards of Americanism as we know it.
And it is not only a safeguard, it is a safeguard which belongs to the people themselves.

Mr. Holsby talked things over with his readers at that time—told them what an indispensable part they played in the operation of an untrammelled
press:

A newspaper, to be successful, must appeal to the rank-and-file of people. It must provide information, entertainment and inspiration.
It is entirely dependent upon the good will of the public; and nothing its owners or its staff can do can perpetuate it if that good will is forfeited.

This unassailable fact is an irrefutable
answer to those who so continually charge that a newspaper is "controlled" by this or that interest.

A newspaper is controlled, primarily, by its subscribers who like it well enough to buy it.
If they don't like it well enough to buy it,
there simply isn't any newspaper.

Never before has the newspaper played such a dominant role in American life as during times like these, as it catalogs and interprets national and international events. Seldom has the public leaned so heavily on the daily press.

National Newspaper Week will have served its purpose if it helps to deepen that friendship between press and public. We are glad we have this opportunity to get to know you better—and for you,
to get to know us a little more intimately.

BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction
in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Sept. 28.—Those fifty destroyers we shipped to Britain are coming home to roost in Indo-China.

It looks like Hitler is trying to throw Japan at our necks. Der Fuehrer has been frustrated at the channel. The transfer of the destroyers to Britain forewarned him officially to expect increasing material aid to his enemy from the United States, and probable American participation in the war.
If this is a correct analysis, his problem has become the same as the Kaisers' after the first rush failed in the last war. He must win before United States aid can tip the scales against him.

If Hitler can induce Japan to bring us to the brink of a Pacific war, or preferably into actual fighting, he can stop the increasing flow of aid to Britain. He can keep our government sufficiently frightened to prevent the relinquishment of all our defense implements.

This at last is the studied interpretation of the dominant recent news from Europe and the Far East accepted among members of the House and Senate foreign relations committees in close touch with developments.

Downtown in the state department, however, a more agreeable interpretation is preferred. None of Mr. Roosevelt's diplomatic authorities seem to have any more really authentic information than has been in the press about the intentions of the Axis. They have received complete inner confirmation of the desperate diplomatic activities of Hitler agents around the Tokyo foreign office. They concede Hitler's game is apparently what the congressmen suspect
it to be. But they do not seriously entertain the notion that the Japanese will fall for it.

A scare news story which appeared out of Shanghai a few days ago, first disclosing the activity of the Germans in Tokyo, has been traced by our diplomats to a Japanese—yes, a Japanese—source.
The shrewd Japanese diplomats
obviously want the United States to believe up to a point that their conquest of the Far East has increasing German approval.

But you cannot get anyone near the top here to believe that the Japanese will play the fool for Hitler to the extent which he wants. The dominant group around the Tokyo foreign office fears Hitler far more than the United States as an obstacle to Japanese expansion. Der Fuehrer has claims on the Dutch East Indies which are directly in the path of Japan.
Moreover his Soviet alliance is far more threatening to Japan
than anything Hull has said.

Therefore, our diplomats are confident the Japanese are using Hitler for their purposes rather than vice versa. They do not expect war or even the brink of it out of this shrewd diplomatic game. They refuse to be scared.

These are the two stories. You may take your choice.
Not a flicker of White House interest appeared on the surface but Mr. Roosevelt personally engineered the election of John McCormack
as House floor leader.

No less an authority could have brought the Tammany delegation flying into town at 3 p. m. just before the unscheduled election
from the New York offices which they occupy far more than their Washington suites during congressional sessions. One Tam-manyite said the order he received included the warning that Mr.
Roosevelt wanted him on hand.
Another leader switched suddenly from favoring postponement of the election until January, frankly telling his colleagues the administration came into the fight and caused him to see the light.

The controlling influence of the President is evident when you consider that all the other candidates except McCormack had banded together for postponement and they lost their postponement motion by only 17 votes.

Thus it may now be said that Mr. Roosevelt's personal choices occupy the leadership in both the Senate and the House.

Threat of a slur campaign is generally accredited in the congressional cloakrooms with having helped to bring Vice-President Garnier back to town. About a week ago the administration's writers carried accusations that the vice-president had been
"mean" for failing to attend the funeral of his old friend, Speaker Bankhead. His friends in Washington had learned much more of the same would be printed against him unless he resumed his position before election for campaign appearances.

We still hold firmly to the principle that those whom private enter-

ported by a government agency.
But I want to ask anyone on relief
whether the support the government gives him is enough. Is it enough for the free and able-bodied American to be given a few scraps of cash or credit with which to keep himself and his children just this side of starvation and nakedness? Is that what the Forgotten

Dwight H. Green
Pledges Safety
Laws for Miners

Benton, Ill., Sept. 28. (AP)— Dwight H. Green, Republican nominee for governor, yesterday pledged full enforcement of all miners' safety regulations if he were elected chief executive.

In an address prepared for delivery here the Republican candidate asserted the safety of coal miners in southern Illinois had been jeopardized by a ruling from the attorney general.

Under the Shot Filler's law all workmen must leave a mine before coal may be loaded. Two opinions by the attorney general related to the application of this law in the use of an explosive agent known as the carbox method.

Green said the first opinion held that the carbox method came under the Shot Filler's law and that miners were entitled to the protection afforded by that legislation. The second opinion, Green said, was a reversal of the first.

"You have demanded a hearing on this action by the state and a thorough investigation by a legislative committee into the reason back of it," Green said, addressing himself to miners. "If I am elected governor, that inquiry will be made."

Brooks Speaks
In a campaign speech prepared for an East St. Louis rally Thursday night, Wayland Brooks declared that a Republican victory in November would bring more jobs to industrial workers.

"We must and will provide relief for our needy citizens until they can again find gainful employment," said the Republican senatorial nominee. "Business and private enterprise will get back to work, expand and rehire our 9,000,000 unemployed when the crushing burden of taxation is lifted and the government's costly rule of business by indictment is stopped."

Hugh W. Cross, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor,
said in a speech prepared for noon
delivery in Rosiclare:
"For almost two years Illinois
has been without an active governor, and what a terrible state of affairs we in Illinois have seen as a result of this situation."

"The same clique that has been operating our government from a bedside cabinet for these last two years x x x are campaigning with all their might for the election of the present Democratic ticket."

Church Societies

Bible Class—Mrs. W. H. Brewster entertained with a picnic
luncheon on Thursday for 45
members of the Women's Bible class of the Methodist church.

Mrs. E. S. Schindler opened the meeting with the hymn
"Blest Be the Tie," followed by a devotional service, "Jesus the Light," presented by Mrs. Charles Winebrenner, who read Scripture verses and a poem, "The Old Lamp," and suggested the hymn,
"Jesus the Light of the World."

Mrs. D. C. Helmick prepared
the following program: Hymn,
"The Old Rugged Cross"; poems,
"It Isn't Raining Rain," "Little Brown Wren," "Play Make-Believe," by Carrie Jacobs-Bond,
"Jinx," a lullaby story, and "Four-Leaf Clovers."

Two members who had made recent visits to the Methodist home for the aged in Chicago brought greetings from two former members of the class. It was agreed to donate $6 for a gift of fruit for the home, and donations of velvet pieces for rugs were asked. Mrs. Tibbets and Miss Morgan will collect the rug material.

Mrs. E. G. Brenner is to be the October hostess.

ANNA MARGARET BECK-INGHAM

Anna Margaret Ebeling was born in Brenda, Germany, Dec. 10, 1869. At the age of 18 she came to this country and made her home with friends at Ashton, Ill. In 1891
she was united in marriage to Frederick William Beckingham of Dixon.

They resided in Dixon for nine years, then moved to Wisconsin
returning to Dixon in 1914, and have resided at 521 Armedia Avenue for many years. Mr. Becking-ham preceded the wife in death in 1932. The Beckinghams were the parents of five children, one boy dying in infancy. Surviving are three daughters and one son,
namely Harry of Moline; Mrs.
Dora Hess, Miss Lona Becking-ham and Mrs. Beattie Weyant, all of Dixon.

Mrs. Beckingham has been a member of the United Evangelical church for the past thirty years,
and was a charter member and active worker in the Bethel U. E.
church, Ill. health has afflicted her for the past two years, with a critical condition affecting her life for the past eight months.
Death came on Wednesday morning Sept. 25, at her home in Dixon.

Funeral services were held in Bethel U. E. church at 2:30 p. m.
Friday afternoon in charge of the pastor, Rev. R. S. Wilson. Two songs were sung by Mrs. William Foster and Mrs. Robert Nice, accompanied by Mrs. Jessie Gaul.
The songs were "Shall We Gather
At The River," and "Sunrise Tomorrow." Burial was made in the family plot in Oakwood cemetery.
Six grandchildren also survive.

"Our dear one is not truly dead.
For nothing good and beautiful
can die!

Let us who mourn, believe, instead,
An eager spirit merely chose to fly
Away to realms we do not know.

"Let us believe that joy and lasting peace
Are waiting there, and those who go Find greater happiness, and sweet release
From care. Think that the same glad smile
That blest and cheered you here
day after day
Will greet you in the after-while Your dear one is not dead, but just away."

ANNIE COTNER

Annie Cotner, daughter of Judson and Jane Cotner, was born March 3, 1874, in Little Rock, Ark.
On Dec. 22, 1892 she was united in marriage with Levi Lewis.
Seven children were born to the Lewises. Mrs. Will Green of Amboy, Mrs. Henry Stover of Sheffield, Ia., Charles Lewis of Chicago,
Floyd Lewis of Rochelle, Ernest
Lewis and Lester Lewis of Harmon. Another son, Elmer, died in infancy.

Mrs. Lewis joined the Christian church in 1905 and was a member until she moved to this community. She attended the Methodist church at Harmon when she was able.

Mrs. Lewis was a very sincere and interested homemaker who was always working for the best interests of her family. She was ever eager to help others who were sick or in trouble. She was loved by all who knew her.

Mrs. Lewis passed away on Sept.
19 at 9:30 a. m. at her home after an illness of two weeks. Mrs. Lewis leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Levi Lewis, her six children,
eleven grandchildren, several nieces
and nephews and her sisters and brothers, Mrs. Elmer White of Decatur, Ill.; William Cotner of Dalton City, Ill.; J. E. Cotner of Bethany, Ill.; Emmett Cotner and Fred Cotner of Woodbine, Ind.

Work Center to Co-Operate With Defense Program

Chicago, Sept. 28. (AP)—Construction of a work experience
center adjacent to Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., which will accommodate 250 of the state's willing but inexperienced youths, will start next week, Mary Stuart Anderson, administrator of the National Youth Administration, said yesterday.

The center, the largest of its kind thus far scheduled in Illinois, was developed in conjunction with the national defense program.
Experience will be gained in clerical work in the Scott Field army offices; airplane maintenance and airplane housing; horticulture, soil conservation and reforestation work; automobile mechanics, carpentry, electricity and plumbing.

"Youth at the center will gain experience in work bearing upon
but not directly in line with military routine," Miss Anderson said.
"The NYA workers will take over maintenance duties now assigned to enlisted men and thus relieve the soldiers for their regular military duties. In that connection we feel that the new center will be making a definite contribution to the national defense plans of the army."

YESTERDAY: Vera isn't worried when a gossip columnist reports her going with Ross Clark, Jr. She thinks young Clark has political ambitions, needs money,
and she's a good shopping, vera kinds telling of a strike at Smithson, Rioting, Picket lines.
When she calls Joe he suggests
she may have had a pipeline
through the YP group.

NICK KNOWS TOO MUCH

CHAPTER XVIII

It wasn't until that bitter moment that she did remember the full significance of Nick's remark.

Joe was no fool. She knew now that he realized where she had heard rumblings of strike threats.
She knew how disturbed, how troubled and puzzled he must be.
But now that trouble had arisen
at the plant—just as Nick had foretold—she was more insistent than ever in her desire to learn what force was behind it all.

She wondered if she could find the courage to go out with Nick since her eyes had been opened,
now that she had broken away
from the childish dream; now that she knew her true love for Joe. And yet she felt she had to find the strength.

Women the world over are facing real, concrete, terrifying problems, she told herself. Certainly there is enough real Americanism in me, enough of my ancestors to help me do my part
now. Even if it turns out to be a witch hunt, even if the YP isn't un-American, but just a harmless bunch of boys and girls like myself, with time and energy and nothing to do—still, I will have convinced myself.

It was even harder than she had anticipated to be with Nick.
he was charming, eager to please,
amusing, and in a lover's mood.

"You're sweet. You're lovely.
You're not like other girls. Not like any girl I ever knew," he said. "Tonight we won't think of work. We'll think of us."
"You care for me, don't you?"
he asked, seriously. "There isn't anyone else, is there? That fellow—that one you used to go with —he's out of your life, isn't he?"
he demanded, holding her closer.
"Oh, Nick, why must you be so serious?" She pushed him away. "We haven't time to be silly—and emotional."

"We have so much—so much in common," she insisted. "I mean the work, and the election. Tell me about that. I haven't had a chance to really talk to you in days." If only she could learn something about his real plans,
it would make this date seem more bearable.

"Work—plans—" He drew her closer again, kissed her. "Let the others talk about work and plans—"

She was frightened. More than she had ever been before. This was a new Nick. Intense and demanding.

"It's only because I thought you wanted me to understand things;
wanted me to stop being blind
and stupid—"

"You aren't blind—or stupid,"
he murmured. "A little, perhaps,
when you won't see how much I care for you. But not about other things."

She persisted and finally he talked. With his arms around her, holding her tightly, he told her
what the election would mean.

"We have to get Fritz King elected. He's our man. He's schooled in the party pattern, and he'll be our opening wedge in creating a new system in this state."

"Old Miller is a fool. He'll run as governor again and he'll put up a stiff battle, but we can lick
him. Plenty comes out in an election campaign. Maybe we'll show that he's wasting the state's money; playing a little private business of his own. Why, then we'd be all set."

"I thought, though, that he was respected—and capable. At least the papers say so." Sue Mary led him on.

"The papers—the capitalisticcontrolled press. Not a free press.
Read our paper. He's backed by big money. He hasn't the interests of the people at heart."

"Speaking of the people," Sue Mary said casually, "there was a riot at the Smithson factory, wasn't there?"

NICK laughed. "A strike? Yes.
But it hasn't really started
—yet."

"I bet the war-mongers are plenty worried. If Smithson stops production for a couple of months
the plane factory might just as well stop trying to keep up to schedule. The Gull plant depends on them for parts, and a strike
would really show the big boys
that the workers are the ones
that make the wheels go round.
Millions for this defense and what about relief? What about wages?"

"But defense is pretty important right now, Nick, isn't it? I mean, shouldn't we forget other problems and be soldiers out of uniform?"

"Who have you been talking to?" Nick took her face between his hands and looked at her. There was no laughter in his eyes now.
They were narrow and searching.
Sue Mary tried to smile. "Why,
Nick, I can read. You taught me to read the newspapers, don't you remember?"

"You've changed," he told her sullenly. He pushed her away and continued to look at her. "I thought you could see the truth;
not be taken in by this stuff you read in the daily papers."

"No," he said slowly, still staring at her through narrowed eyes.
"Someone has been talking to you.
It's that Joe. He works at Smithson, doesn't he? You see him, don't you?"

She swallowed against the lump in her throat. "Of course. I know him and sometimes I have dates with him. So what, Nick? He's not you. I'm with you almost every day. And I'm with Vera and Natalie. You're my friends—"

Nick fumbled for a cigarette and lighted it. "You're not like Vera or Natalie." He looked up suddenly. "Maybe you're working too hard at the office. How are things going there?"

It was like a game, Sue Mary thought, each trying to maneuver the other into an admission.
"The office—? Oh, we're still busy. But Vera can tell you that."
"She's making good there, isn't she?"

Dixon Gridmen Are Withered by Rock Falls, 13 to 6

By DON DANIELSON

AT THE EXECUTION

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a game in Rock Falls turned out last night to see the Dukes bow to their hosts. A large throng of Dixon faithfuls followed the team and were in for the execution. Among those spotted along the side lines through the dust were: Glenn Courtright, Harry Herbst, Harold Cook, Lloyd Muzzey, Gene Goddard, Howard Mantach, Lyle Meyers, Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Walter, Jack McGrail, Nelson Lambert, John Mensch, Larry Dougherty, Dr. Floyd Blewfield, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bowers, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Worsley, Mrs. C. B. Lindell, Mrs. Marvin Winger, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sharpe, B. J. Frazer, John Shultz, Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer, A. H. Lancaster, James Hanna, Robert Johnson, Fred Page, Rae Arnold, Miss Beth Atkinson, Kenneth Barnhart, Bill Loftus, Robert E. Shaw, Howard Quick, Lawrence Kauffman, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Howell, John Naylor, Earl Nolan, John Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanford, Charles Roundy, James Withers, Floyd Lynch, Joe Vaile, Gene Barrowman, etc., etc.

PLUM HOLLOW WINDUP

The finals in the Class B and C tournaments at Plum Hollow Country club will be played tomorrow. Tonight the club members and their guests will enjoy the last dancing party of the season at the clubhouse.

HO HUM

Who said Dixon would defeat Rock Falls? We did! Who said Amboy would beat Polo? We did! And that isn't all. We missed right and left on last night's games for a shameful 375 percentage on eight high school games. From now on it's the blindfold test and nothing more. In a period of two weeks we have a composite percentage of .444 with eight right and 10 wrong. Our Aunt Minnie who doesn't know a football from the original pig, could do better with her hands caught in the knitting yarn.

CONFERENCE RIVAL SWAMPED

Princeton, new to the North Central conference football schedule this season, and Dixon's foe next week, dropped a 28 to 6 decision to Kewanee last night. Like Dixon the Tigers now have a complete variety in three games with one tie, one win and one loss.

MEETING OF FOOTBALL MANAGERS

Managers and sponsors of the Dixon football teams are reminded of that important business meeting to be held at The Telegraph offices Monday night at 7 o'clock.

As predicted, that Sterling-Mendota game had a mid-season flavor last night as the Scheidmen from Sterling won a 14 to 12 victory at Mendota on the hosts' failure to snag the extra points. The game was the first in the North Central conference race.

In the first quarter Sterling fumbled and Mendota recovered. Seno cut through the line for three yards to the touch-down but his attempted place kick was no good. Sterling took the lead on a one point margin in the third period when Hubbard passed to Griesser who raced to the one-yard line from where Woodyatt plunged over for the touchdown. Steadman added the extra point on a pass play.

Seno's attempted place kick late in the same period failed from the 18-yard line.

In the last quarter Sterling began a long march which ended in another touchdown when Woodyatt cracked the line, Hubbard plunged off tackle for the extra point.

A last-minute passing attack by Mendota opened the way for another touchdown as six passes in a row were completed from Seno to Larson. The last was good for 20 yards and a score. Seno's seventh pass to Larson for the extra point failed.

Amboy and Polo, two doormat teams of the Rock River conference met on the Marcos' field last night and the home club won 7 to 0. Polo scored in the third quarter when Smith climaxed a long Marco drive to the goal by smashing the Amboy line into the pay dirt territory. Smith passed to Terry for the extra point.

Both teams were fairly well matched throughout the first half.

CAFE QUINTET IS LEADER IN MAJOR BOWLING LEAGUE

Sunny Brook Team Sets New Team Records Last Night

Four teams in the Major League are knotted around second place as a result of games rolled last night at the Dixon Recreation alleys. The Dixon Cafe team maintained its lead in the circuit with a 2-1 victory over Dick's Tavern.

Sunny Brook one of the clubs clustered around second perch set new team records with high game of 1056 and high series of 2993.

The Dixon Paint store won three games from Kelly's Budweiser. Daschbach counted a 53 5 series to pace the brushmen and Finn's 498 was high for the losers.

Leaders Win Two The Dixon Cafe leaders won two games from the Dick's Tavern as Worley sparked the winners with a 592 series and Katzwinkel counted for the losers.

Sunny Brook won two games from the State Highway. Klein's series of 607 was best of the evening and paced the winners. Gorman counted 457 to lead the roadmen.

Freemans won two games from the Chauffeurs as Cramer rolled 442 for the shoemen and Lessner's 474 led the drivers.

High games last night included those of: J. Smith 218; Klein 232; Worley 212.

It was the Mounders' first win in three attempts as Coach Wendall Schrader's boys opened the Rock River conference season.

In the second quarter Ballard went through left guard for a 20-yard romp to the touchdown. His attempted plunge through the line failed to add the extra point.

Touchdowns—May, Kunde, DeGryse. Safety—Oregon (automatic).

The first indication of what the Rochelle fans might expect this season from their high school grid team was seen in a practice game here with the Dixon Dukes. Likewise, the first hint of what the Hubs may do in the Rock River conference was seen in the 20 to 0 victory over Oregon on the home gridiron last night.

The Hubs scored on a safety in the first quarter when an Oregon passer intentionally grounded the ball while standing behind his own goal line.

Quarterback May, who gave such an excellent account of himself at DeKalb last week, scored on a dive through right tackle in the second quarter. In the same period Kunde intercepted one of the Hawks' passes and dashed 20 yards to pay dirt. DeGryse scored on a 30-yard pass from May in the last quarter.

Next week Rochelle will play in another conference game at Amboy and Oregon entertains Stockton in a non-conference battle.

Dixon's Dukes, who looked like a promising crop of young gridmen under a harvest moon at Rockford last week, were withered in a dust storm at Rock Falls last night and had the sap knocked out of them with a 13 to 6 defeat.

The Rockets put on a show of fireworks which was brilliantly blinding and the sparks from their display scorched the dry and ineffectual Dukes who gave only a few reminders of their Rockford performance.

Dixon's backfield seemed to be carrying the load of all the world's ills and the ball carriers were bogged down by an alliance of Rock Falls men which surrounded them with a steel-like wall. Holes in the Dixon line outnumbered those in Swiss cheese and the Rockets romped almost at will as they rolled up 16 first downs in comparison to five by Dixon.

That Coach C. B. Lindell still has a team which can give a creditable account of itself stands as a warning to the North Central conference foes—but last night was not theirs. It was practically all Rock Falls and no one can take anything from Coach George Quire's outfit which seems destined to continue for another year as Rock River conference champions. The Rockets' lateral passing combination was flashy and completely outsmarted the Dukes.

Rock Falls' heavy line and two boys from the backfield, Edus and Barnhart, had all the oomph a prep school coach could want. They rattled the Dixon line continuously and were well supported by their mates.

Two Bright Spots Dixon gave two indications that all is not lost and that the Dukes may yet turn into the team they promised to be. Early in the first quarter they put on a rushing drive which netted four first downs in a row with Robert Sanborn doing most of the yard-gaining. Again in the last quarter when Padilla passed for 30 yards to Fenger who romped 22 for Dixon's only touchdown, the Dukes gave their fans the biggest moment of the game. Outside of those flashes, the picture was all Rock Falls.

The game began with a poor attempt at a kick off by Dixon and Rock Falls took the ball on their own 42 yard line. Hunsberger attempted a run around the right end for a four yard loss when tackled by Weaver and Bugg. Shultz brought down Edus for another four yard loss on the next play. Barnhart cracked right guard for nine yards and Edus punted a beauty to Vaughn who was stopped cold on the Dixon 28.

Fails to Gain Kelly failed to gain on the Dukes' first play and Sanborn's spinner into the line was good for five yards. In fake punt formation Vaughn carried the ball for three yards before Kelly picked out of bounds on the Rock Falls

39. Barnhart crashed through center for 15 yards and a first down for the hosts and on a reverse Edus picked up another first to the Dixon 33 where he was tackled by Shiaras.

Quick stopped Edus for no gain and Edus' pass to Barnhart was incomplete. Interference was ruled on Edus' pass to Genz and the Rockets gained about 24 yards to the Dixon 9-yard stripe.

Barnhart shot through center for two yards before Shultz brought him down. Rock Falls was penalized 5 yards for offside, but undaunted they cracked the defense for a touchdown on a lateral pass play from Barnhart to Edus for the goal. Warner's place kick hit the uprights and bounded over for the seventh point.

Kelly returned the kickoff for nine yards to the Dixon 29 and the Dukes took an offside penalty on the next play. Kelly was stopped for no gain and Sanborn picked up about two yards. Kelly punted to Edus who received on his own 40 and was tackled by Vaile.

Edus Gains 30 Yards On a reverse Edus romped around left end and was run out of bounds after a gain of 30 yards to the Dixon 35. As the quarter ended Rock Falls made another first down to the Dixon 24 when Edus stepped through an opening in the right side of the line.

Vaile and Weaver tackled Edus for a loss of two yards and the Rockets suffered a 15 yard penalty for holding. Barnhart was stopped for no gain by Weaver and Stanford. Genz passed to Edus and it was long, but incomplete. Edus punted to Vaughn on the 10 yard line and he returned to his own 15 before Genz brought him to earth.

In punt formation Sanborn took the ball instead and went through left guard and tackle for seven yards. On a reverse Kelly picked up two yards before Walder went through center to the one yard line and Edus carried the ball over the goal on an off tackle drive at the left side of the line. Warner's attempt to boot the extra point failed.

Following the kickoff Dixon took the ball on the Dukes' 39 where Sanborn has been stopped after a run-back of 20 yards. On the first play Padilla passed 30 yards to Fenger who raced the rest of the way to the goal line. Sanborn's attempt to kick the extra point failed.

Penalty Hurts Dixon Padilla, Dixon's passing hope in the four minutes that were left of the game, was sent out on the claim of unnecessary roughness. Dixon had started to click too late, and the penalty hurt.

Following the kickoff Rock Falls took the ball on their own 35 where Weaver & Company smashed Edus for a loss of three yards. Barnhart had better luck and romped to a first down.

Edus was stopped for no gain and Barnhart went 15 yards through center to another first down on the Dixon 39. Edus swept the right side of the line to the 32 and Barnhart made it first down to the Dixon 23.

Weaver tackled Edus for a loss of two yards. With a minute left to play Edus' pass to Genz failed and another pass from Genz intended for George was broken up by Walder.

Kelly's pass attempt was broken by Barnhart. Sanborn fumbled and Kelly recovered and was smothered for a loss of 14 yards as the game ended on the sour note of a penalty of 5 yards for too many times out.

Coach Marvin Winger, using only freshmen and sophomores in a combination of underclassmen which new conference rulings will require, used his team against a heavier and older Rock Falls team in the preliminary last night and the Dixon boys held out for three quarters before they were scored upon.

Penalties by the carload bogged down the game and disheartened fate. With Kelly back to punt Sanborn took the ball instead and heaved a pass over the line which fell incomplete. Hunsberger fumbled Kelly's punt and Walder recovered for Dixon on the Dukes 47.

Vaughn tried to buck the line but lost a couple of yards. Sanborn was stopped for no gain and a pass from Sanborn over the line to Vaile was ruled complete on interference for Dixon's last first down. Sanborn picked up three yards on a spinner and three more yards on an off tackle smash.

George nailed Vaughn for a two yard loss. Kelly punted to the Rock Falls 12 as the third period ended.

Lateral Works Again

The lateral worked again from Barnhart to Edus for a gain of 20 yards before Kelly tackled the receiver on the Rock Falls 32. Barnhart went through center for four yards and off tackle for three more. Shiaras, Sanford and Weaver were in on the tackles.

Barnhart completed the necessary yardage for another first down on a drive through center for five yards.

Edus swept the left side of the line for five more yards to the midstripe where he cut loose around right end for a first down to Dixon's 37 where Kelly made the tackle.

Another Penalty

Barnhart went through left guard and tackle but Rock Falls was penalized five yards for backfield in motion. Edus lost about a yard and Genz' pass to him was no good. Edus passed to Higgins for a gain to the Dixon 26 where Tofte brought him down.

Rock Falls pushed on toward the goal when Barnhart picked up a first down to the Dixon 15 on a line smash, reverse play and center drive by Barnhart.

Edus' pass over the line to Genz was good for seven yards to the Dixon 8-yard stripe where Walder made the tackle. Barnhart went through center to the one yard line and Edus carried the ball over the goal on an off tackle drive at the left side of the line. Warner's attempt to boot the extra point failed.

Following the kickoff Dixon took the ball on the Dukes' 39 where Sanborn has been stopped after a run-back of 20 yards. On the first play Padilla passed 30 yards to Fenger who raced the rest of the way to the goal line. Sanborn's attempt to kick the extra point failed.

BARTON LASHES AT ROOSEVELT'S "FREE" VOTE CRY

Reviews New Deal Means of Coercing Electorate

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
Washington, D. C.—Replying to President Roosevelt's speech recently, Representative Bruce Barton (R., N. Y.) today declared there can be no "free election" in 1940 as far as the New Deal administration is concerned.

In the formal response of Republicans to Mr. Roosevelt's assertion at the University of Pennsylvania that "as long as periodic free elections survive, no set of people can permanently control government," Barton said:

"By this declaration Mr. Roosevelt has raised the very pertinent question as to whether his choice by the Democratic national convention was a free choice of the people and whether under the tremendous powers assumed by this administration the 1940 election will in fact, represent a 'free election'."

Students of Urbana, Champaign Protest Curfew Proposal

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Student leaders in Champaign and Urbana high schools today were on record as opposed to a tentative curfew ordinance drafted by the "curfew coordinating committee" of the two cities.

The proposed ordinance, which will be acted on by the councils in about 10 days would bar all boys and girls under 16 years of age from the streets without their parents after 9:30 p. m. except on Friday and Saturday nights when the curfew would be at 11:30 p. m.

Mary Anne Kirk, 17, a senior and Champaign high school student, council vice president, said students would not give their true ages if questioned on the streets by policemen. "We want to be trusted, independent, and have fun," she said.

Truck Drivers Fatally Burned in Accident

Goshen, Ind., Sept. 28.—(AP)—Two transport truck drivers were burned fatally today in the head-on collision of their vehicles on U. S. highway 6, southwest of here.

The men were identified tentatively as Charles Taylor of Chicago (no street address) and Arthur Sours of Fort Wayne. Both bodies were burned almost beyond recognition.

The trucks burst into flames immediately after the crash. State police and local officials spent five hours clearing traffic around the scene of the accident.

GULLS

Since mass air raids on Great Britain started, Britons have learned to watch the flight of sea birds. Gulls flying inland means that raiders are coming. But the war has been hard on sea gulls. Diving for fish killed by exploding mines, depth charges and torpedoes, they land on a surface of oil spread by sunken ships, bog down, can fly no more. Last week a Mrs. Yglesias on the Cornish coast went into the business of cleaning gulls. With the assistance of her two daughters she was able to de-oil 700 per day.

LOCODD HENRY WALLACE

Mr. Wallace's friends and apologists, noting that he's talking queerly, say that he isn't nutty; he only seems to be. He hasn't been at ease since the Democratic convention nominated him at the dictate of the White House and then booted him off the scene. He doesn't want to talk about the farms, and so he talks about Hitler and about the good metropolitan political corruptionists who are for the third term and for him.

The explanation that Mr. Wallace is merely troubled by the perplexities of his campaign does not get very far. Mr. Wallace is the best judge of whether he can defend himself before farm audiences if he talks about their business and what he's done to it, but his talk about Hitler and his whitewashing of the dirty city machines of the New Deal would suggest that he's not only emotionally unbalanced, but a bit woody mentally.

His statement that a vote for Willie is a vote for Hitler couldn't come from a man who had much of a mind or was making any use of what he had. No sane man would even intimate that any considerable number of Americans favored the Nazi dictator. No reasonable man would import the word "appeasement" and use it in an effort to smear people who do not agree with him. Americans have nothing to appease. We apprehend danger from Nazi success and realize that it has been greatly increased by the New Deal's provocations and by its failure to put the country in a state of defense.

Mr. Wallace said that some of the bitter attacks on Mr. Roosevelt's program "were directly inspired by the agents of Hitler in this country". The strongest opposition to Mr. Roosevelt and to his vest pocket candidate for Vice President comes from people who know that the greatest danger to the country in foreign affairs and domestic affairs alike is offered by the present administration and the threat of a third term. They know that the American system is more immediately threatened by the conspiracy to plant a dictatorship here, with a war, if necessary, than it is by any developments abroad. There may be dangers there, but the first one the country will meet is the one here.

People oppose Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Wallace because they don't want to take chances with an American dictatorship. They don't want to set a man up above the law and submit to his mandates. They don't like Hitler and they don't want anything of his type, with anything like his ambitions, acquiring the authority inseparable from the third term. Mr. Roosevelt is a domineering man. Mr. Wallace is an unbalanced one, and sane people do not want the one again as President or the other as Vice President.

consistent United States opposition to Japan's policies, and added: "In short, the United States forced us to take sides. We have done so." A German commentator also said it was "only the United States which could make such a pact as this necessary."

"Silent Power"

The influential Tokyo newspapers Yomiuri expressed belief the pressure of the pact would keep the United States from going to war, and would be a "silent power" in determining the United States' future course.

Russia's position was unclear, because of lack of information whether Moscow had been informed in advance such a pact was in the making. The agreement leaves unchanged the "present" relation of each of the three governments with Russia, Hitler's passive ally, but leaves room for future modifications of that status.

The fighting in the Battle of Britain took an upturn along with the diplomatic developments.

German bombers wound up their third week of unrelenting air siege against the bomb-battered island with a thunderous overnight assault aimed primarily at London but which spread over uncounted other towns of England, Scotland and Wales.

The British, counting more than 133 Nazi planes shot down yesterday and last night alone, had the number of German planes lost over England in September was more than 1,000 for the second successive month.

Recruiting

The Illinois National Guard Service Commission, organized to give legal and business aid to guardsmen, conscripts or others called into service, was explained to the more than 30 officers at the meeting.

Lease problems was cited by Gen. Lawton as outstanding and added that many landlords had expressed willingness to cancel leases, permitting families to move into cheaper apartments. Britton I. Budd, commission chairman, said problems confronting present guardsmen would be handled by the judge advocate's office of the 33rd division.

New York Models Say "Be Natural to be Successful"

By Mary Elizabeth Plummer
New York, Sept. 28—(AP)—Trude (accent on the "e," so it sounds like "Trudy") is a model with a back bay Boston background—a tenth direct descendant of Governor Bradford.

She is direct, friendly, disarmingly frank. She has brains, wit, vitality and is an excellent conversationalist.

Trude thinks that some fashion tricks are silly, and she says so. She might breeze out, for example, in an evening gown trailing a long silk panel, and say, "Isn't this stupid? But it's fun to wear."

Then there's Carmen, (Her first name is Josephine) Carmen, a native New Yorker, is in her twentieth year as a model (somewhat of a record)—still beautifully erect and slender, with size 12 hips and size 14 shoulders, weight 119 although she's 5 feet six.

These girls, stars in the design house of Sally Milgrim, would shatter any idea you might have that top-flight models are merely graceful clothes rails, with slight mental adornment, and go swiftly into oblivion when they pass 21.

They belong in the category of models who have reached the top by being natural.

Carmen never made it a point to stand a certain way. She always models clothes the way she wears them on the street.

Trude, head model in the custom-made salon, is in her sixth year with the firm.

She never yearned for any career except modeling, and maybe some day becoming a designer herself.

Early Ambitions
The ambition wall, born when she was a child in Boston, sitting every evening on the second terrace of her family's four-terraced lawn to watch a neighbor girl who was a model for Hollander's come home from work.

"She was slim and erect," said Trude. "She just blew as she walked up the street."

"She wore tailored suits and big black hats. I had to wear pleated bloomers and a middie blouse; and I thought she was divine."

You see Trude now in her black dresses and furs—she owns a mink coat, six sables and a team of fox scarves—walking up 57th Street in the manner of her childhood idol, with her brown eyes sparkling.

She prefers black, sometimes wears brown, but never wears colors. She likes suit effects, with a dress and coat; dislikes evening clothes and wears dinner clothes instead; refused to look "all fluffed up, because I'd feel everyone was looking at me."

She has a low voice, and a sleek blonde pompadour; is 5 feet 6, weighs 126, and is slim and hard-muscled.

Expert Fisherman
She is an expert fisherman; knows all about trolling in salt water, and is a good horseman.

Those are her favorite diversions. Home is a suite in a hotel on Central Park south.

She's the daughter of Mrs. Florence Weld, of Beaufort Road, Jamaica Plain, Boston, and has a twin sister, Mrs. Cornelius Coleman, who in turn has twins.

Trude's last name is Fredey and she started work as a model for Helen Crosby.

There she learned to show clothes swiftly, with spirit, hurrying as if you had something more important to show. This feeling of zest and vitality marks her style as a model.

"I guess I don't exactly know how to model," she says. Anyway, she's tremendously successful, and her work delights her.

Sometimes she shows to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is a favorite patron. "She realizes a girl may be tired," said Trude, "and will say, 'you may sit.' She is first a woman, then a President's wife."

As Trude sees it, the worst fault in modern women's posture is to "break at the waist," and slouch.

She corrects this fault in beginning models by instructing them to practice walking with their hands tied behind them. It's even more effective, she said, than a book balanced on the head—which is the method the late Flo Ziegfeld used in teaching his showgirls to stand tall and look proud.

Former Dixon Woman Writes of Kidnaping Of the de Tristan Boy

Mrs. Clifton Hawkins of San Mateo, Calif., the former Miss Ethel Sterling, formerly of Dixon, who is due to arrive here Oct. 14 for a visit at the Robert Sterling home, has written Dixon friends concerning the kidnaping of the Marc de Tristan boy, which took place within a few blocks of her home.

The following paragraphs are excerpts from her letter:

"The afternoon the baby was taken, mother and I were driving along El Camino Real, and I suddenly remarked: 'There is something mysterious going on—four state cops have passed me in three blocks and they never patrol this road—they should be on the highway.' Mother said I had been reading too many detective stories—but I said: 'Wait and see—they are looking for someone who is wanted badly.'"

"Sure enough, when the evening paper came out, the story of the kidnaping appeared, and the get away was made at the same time mother and I were driving and over the very same route. Perhaps the car passed us—that explained the state cops. I was over at the de Tristan home Sunday after they had received the news the baby was safe and on his way home."

"Police had the streets crowded off but that did not stop the crowds. They were delicious with joy. I never saw so many G-men in my life. The beautiful lawn and gardens were trampled to pulp—but the de Tristans did not mind. The kidnaper never intended to return him alive—and he is such an adorable baby, and the de Tristans are such wonderful people."

ROMANTIC SELF
After a patient wait, death came last week to Hans Zinsner, bacteriologist, physician, philosopher, poet, ironist, editor, raconteur. At 61, he died of chronic leukemia, a slow-moving, mysterious disease of the blood for which there is no known cure.

By many, Dr. Zinsner was regarded as the world's leading authority on typhus, the ancient plague which is now known to be virus-borne by human lice and 'a' fleas. Five years ago, in "Rats, Lice and History," he traced with surprising charm the red-brown spots of typhus across world history. This year he announced a method for mass production of a typhus vaccine.

Hans Zinsner was born in New York City of German parents from the Rhineland. His father was a prosperous chemist.

Storms and Sunshine To Be Plotted in Far Northern Alaskan City

Barrow, Alaska, Sept. 28—(AP)—Balloons and helium tanks have the Eskimos gazing around this northernmost community on the North American continent.

It's because the United States weather bureau, in its ever-widening attempt to plot storms before they blow and snows before they fall, has extended its observation here.

So John Jones, of Chanute, Kan., will be as surprised as the Eskimos to know that the balloons and helium tanks are helping the government tell him whether the time is ripe for a picnic or whether he'd better buy some anti-freeze for his car.

The Eskimos are currently watching construction of a huge tower from which radio-controlled six foot balloons carrying weather registering devices will be released.

The balloons will be released over the top of the Arctic ice field, and the findings of the instruments will be transmitted southward from this weather-breeding area so United States citizens can get the jump on the elements.

Barrow will be remembered as the village of 111 families, four of them white, which is tucked away on Point Barrow, way up at the top of our Alaska map.

It was a short distance from Barrow where Will Rogers and Wiley Post crashed their plane in 1935, and a monument to the pair was dedicated by a party of Oklahomans a couple of years ago.

Collector Cites Change in Tax on Admissions

William L. Doyle, Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue, with office at 107 Galena avenue, Dixon, calls attention to the change in the law covering Federal tax on admissions. Beginning after June 30, 1940, the exemption from admission tax has been lowered from 40 cents to 20 cents. The new act imposes a tax of 1 cent on each 10 cents or fraction thereof where the amount paid is 21 cents or more. The tax is imposed on admissions to any place unless the organization charging the admission is specifically exempt under the law. The fact that an affair is conducted not for profit is not grounds for exemption under the law.

Mr. Doyle states that there has been a number of violations of the admission tax law resulting from misinterpretation of the taxing provisions, and he advises all those in this community who are planning to conduct affairs for which an admission is to be charged, to get in touch with his office at the earliest possible date.

Tests To Be Conducted For Youths Wishing to Become Flying Cadets

To accommodate students and employed youths who wish to enroll as flying cadets from Dixon and vicinity, the flying cadet examining board will conduct tests Sunday, Sept. 29 from 1 to 6 p. m. It was announced at the local U. S. Army recruiting station today. The headquarters are located in room 902, post office building, Chicago.

The examining board will go to Rockford Oct. 7 to 19 to conduct examinations. The prospective applicant will be required to bring with him a birth certificate showing he is between the ages of 20 and 27 and a citizen, three letters of recommendation from citizens of recognized standing in his community and a transcript of his college credits showing completion of at least two years' study. Flying cadets who lack sufficient college credits may be given an

Proposal to Get Loan on Soybeans Seems Abandoned

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 28—(AP)—The Illinois Agricultural Association has apparently abandoned a proposal to seek an emergency 40-cent Federal loan on soybeans harvested this fall after central Illinois bean growers expressed fears that an AAA loan program might lead to acreage restrictions in the future.

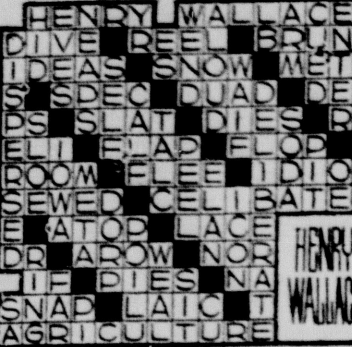

A group of representative bean growers from the heart of the nation's soybean belt voted 44 to 36 in favor of a crop loan but Paul Mathias, I

RIGHTERONG?

IN GALLOPING, ALL FOUR FEET OF A HORSE ARE NEVER OFF THE GROUND AT ONE TIME.

ANSWER: Wrong. The feet are never off the ground in the outstretched manner shown in old prints, however, but are doubled beneath the body.

NEXT: Egypt's sacred cats.

DIXON GOSPEL TABERNACLE

Fifth street and Ottawa avenue
W. J. Martz, pastor

9:30 a. m. Bible school

10:45 a. m. Morning worship

6:30 p. m. Young people's fellowship

7:30 p. m. Evangelistic service

In our Bible school this coming Sunday we are celebrating Rally Day. In addition to promotion exercises, re-dedication of teachers and officers and other features, there will be a special talk and object lesson by Miss Clark, missionary from North Carolina, to the whole school. All regular members, as well as new members are urged to attend this gathering which is the beginning of a strong, interesting and profitable fall and winter program.

The pastor's theme for the morning message will be "The Bible, the Inspired Word of God". In the evening the subject will be "The King's Business Requireth Haste".

The mid-week prayer meeting is held each Friday evening at 7:30 in the Tabernacle.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Second street at Peoria avenue
Floyd L. Blewfield, D. D., pastor

Services for Sunday, Sept. 29

9:45 a. m.—The church school with annual promotion day exercises in all departments

10:45 a. m.—The church public worship service. Special Joash Sunday program with many outstanding features of interest to all members and friends of the church. The public is invited.

A II three choirs of the church will participate in the special music for this service, as follows:

The Junior choir will sing "The World is Bright" by Lowry

The Treble Clef choir will sing the prayer response.

The Senior and Treble Clef choirs will unite in singing the anthem, "The Silent Sea" by N. J. Young.

Dr. Blewfield will give a special message on the subject "What's Right With the Church?"

Crawford Thomas will preside at the organ and will use as special organ numbers in this service: "Meditation of St. Clothilde" by James; "Con Grazier" by Andrews and "War March of the Priests" by Mendelssohn.

6:45 p. m.—Youth meetings. All young people of the church, regardless of age, are invited to the youth services each Sunday night.

Methodist Events for the Week

Monday 7:00 p. m.—Boy Scout meeting (younger group)

7:30 p. m.—Monthly meeting of the official board (The new members of the board are expected to attend this meeting also).

Tuesday, 7:30 p. m.—Boy Scout meeting (older group).

Starting Tuesday and continuing for one week the annual session of the Rock River conference of the Methodist church will be held in the Embury Methodist church of Freeport. Dr. Blewfield, as pastor, and Leon Garrison, as lay delegate, will represent the local church officially. It is expected that many Dixon people will attend various sessions of this great conference.

On Friday, Oct. 4 conference session will be held in Mt. Morris where the conference was first organized 100 years ago. A special centennial program will be given including a historic pageant in the evening. The general public is invited.
